ICKES CALLS PWA 'LABOR'S FRIEND'

By HAROLD L. ICKES

Public Works Administrator,
(Written For The Associated Press)

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP).—American labor may look forward with confidence to the Public Works administration's part in the new work relief program, anticipating from it the same benefits as accrued to workers throughout the country from the first PWA program, which set new records for peace-time public construction.

In general, the policies safeguarding the interests of labor, instituted and strictly enforced by PWA in all its undertakings during the past two years will be faithfully followed in the new PWA program made possible by the 1935 work relief appropriations.

We have found the observance of principles of fair practice as profitable to us as they are acceptable to those who are employed on our projects. The completion of the major portion of our program on scheduled time is due in large measure to the excellent cooperation accorded us by the representatives of labor and by the workers themselves.

Labor Is Appreciative.
Labor, we believe, is appreciative of the steps we have taken to protect the interests of those for whom we have provided work. We not only have promulgated a code of fair practices, we have guaranteed strict observance of that code by writing its principles into every contract for the expenditure of PWA funds.

In addition to assuring a square deal for workers directly employed upon our projects we have made provisions for the protection of those workers engaged in the production and fabrication of materials. We not only have specified in our contracts that American materials must be given the preference on identical bids, we have bolstered tariff protection by establishing sufficiently large differentials to enable American manufacturers to compete favorably with foreign producers. To date, PWA has provided approximately 9,255,000 man-months of direct employment, and approximately in the production, fabrication and transportation of materials. Thus American labor has received from the PWA program, the benefits of some eighteen and a half million man-months of employment.

As in the old PWA program, in the new we have established a fair wage and decent working conditions. We are demanding the payment of prevailing local wage rates on all PWA work. We have empowered our state directors to reject any pay scales which propose wages below the present prevailing union rate for work generally performed under union conditions.

Guarantee Labor's Rights.
We have again taken precautions to assure to all workers the exercise of their right to bargain collectively. In forthright terms our regulations guarantee this right to labor.

In order to spread the benefits of work, and the same time provide each worker with a living wage, we have made several important conditions of employment. Our second program will be carried to completion on a maximum of an 8-hour day and a 130-hour month. We are prohibiting contractors from placing on payrolls those otherwise employed if their combined working time exceeds the stipulated maximum working hours.

Guard Against "Kick-Back"
Every precaution has been taken to guard against the vicious practice of the "kick-back." Contractors are specifically warned against the practice, the entire PWA inspection division is alert to combat it, and violators face severe penalties in case of conviction.

Many other safe guards for the worker have been made part of our

In the accompanying article, Harold L. Ickes, public works administrator, seen at right, explains how PWA either directly or indirectly has provided "man-months of labor" running far into the millions. Here are seen two large projects, which provided part of that employment.

At left are workmen on the Lynn-Revere bridge in Massachusetts. At right, bricklayers are seen working shoulder to shoulder on the new West 48th street Pier, New York City. On the latter project, the men worked in triple shifts.

contracts. PWA money to cover wage claims may be withheld from the contractor until any wage dispute has been adjusted in accordance with our regulations. Provision has been made for adequate Workmen's Compensation Insurance for all employees and for the employment of such precautions as are necessary to protect workers against accidents and health hazards.

In a program as vast as that directed by PWA some disputes and misunderstandings are unavoidable. Our Board of Labor Review has held upwards of 300 formal hearings and has intervened informally in double that number of controversies. As a tribute to the impartiality and fairness of that body, there has been not a major strike or layoff to mar the smooth operation of the PWA program. In contemplating our second program, we count on labor to cooperate with the same reasonable and fair spirit which assured the success of the first program.

Subsistence Gardens Expected to Produce Crop of $2,500,000

In an effort to make themselves partially self-supporting, persons on relief rolls in New York state have planted 80,000 subsistence gardens from which a vegetable crop estimated at $2,500,000 is expected to be harvested. It was announced yesterday by C. C. Carpenter, director of the division of rural activities for the State Temporary Emergency Relief Administration. About 8,000 gardens were planted in all boroughs of Greater New York, Manhattan expected.

This two and a half million dollar crop, all of which has been or will be consumed by the state's unemployed on relief, was produced at a total expenditure of approximately $400,000. The total expense incurred included the purchasing of seeds, plowing of the land, wages paid to labor and technical supervision, and the buying of small farming implements.

Subsistence gardens were planted in virtually all of the 114 welfare districts in the state and on six Indian reservations. With the exception of the gardens planted on the Indian reservations, and the industrial garden projects, the State Temporary Emergency Relief Administration reimbursed the local welfare districts 75 per cent of the expense in the planting and maintenance of the garden projects. The TERA granted one hundred per cent reimbursement of the Indian gardens. The industrial gardens were financed by private corporations.

The larger portion of the vegetables obtained from the subsistence gardens has been consumed, furnishing fresh vegetables daily through the summer months to the 80,000 families who have cultivated the gardens.

About ten per cent of the vegetables harvested will be canned for use during the winter months.

There were four distinct types of gardens planted this year under the supervision of the state TERA. Approximately 60,000 gardens were of the municipal type. These municipal or home gardens are located on a large tract of land divided into individual gardens about one-eighth of an acre of 50 by 100 feet in size. Some of these gardens were 50 by 50 feet. The municipal gardens were planted where the demand for such relief was greatest.

In some districts where the number of families interested in garden projects was insufficient to warrant a municipal project, vacant lots or backyard gardens were planted. Community gardens were also planted in numerous sections of the state. These gardens were operated on a work relief basis, with the workers receiving regular relief wages. The products from the community gardens will be distributed to needy unemployed in the community by the welfare commissioner. The fourth type of project was the industrial garden. These gardens were initiated by private corporations to care for their unemployed and part-time employees. No materials were furnished by the state TERA for these gardens but the state organization provides supervisors, when requested, to give advice on planting, raising and gathering the crops.

Mr. Carpenter estimated that between 1,500,000 and 2,000,000 units of canned vegetables will be made available to about 15,000 families this coming winter. Canning kitchens, of which twelve are already in operation, will be set up in various counties of the state. The estimated retail value of the canned products, all of which will be consumed by the unemployed, will be in excess of $220,000. Canning kitchens have been set up in Nassau, Suffolk, Schenectady, Monroe, Erie, Jefferson, Tompkins, Herkimer, Oneida, Westchester and Cattaraugus counties and in New York city where there are thirty canning kitchens in operation. In some counties demonstration kitchens are in operation. All the canning kitchens are operated by work relief workers. Gardeners may bring their surplus vegetables to these canning kitchens, where under instructions given by supervisors they will be able to preserve products for use this fall and winter. The turn-out of preserved products from kitchens operated as work relief projects will be distributed to needy persons on relief.

The vegetables and plants raised in these gardens included beans, beets, peas, carrots, cucumbers, kale, kohlrabi, lettuce, onions, parley, parsnips, radishes, rutabagas, spinach, squash, corn, Swiss chard, turnips, potatoes, tomatoes, peppers and cabbage.

Any measures he believes should be unacted will be definitely disapproved and with a written reason. The sudden death of Mrs. Harold Ickes has deeply affected the President and Mrs. Roosevelt and plans for a picnic party today have been cancelled.

Mrs. Roosevelt is leaving late today to attend funeral services tomorrow at Winnetka, Ill.

Mr. Ickes, secretary of the Interior, was one of the last persons to see the President before his departure from Washington for this brief vacation stay. He is chairman of the allotment board of the works relief program.

Rexford G. Tugwell, administrator of rural resettlements, accompanied the President home.

Roosevelt Is Resting At Hyde Park Estate

Hyde Park, N. Y., Sept. 2 (AP).—President Roosevelt is spending a quiet Labor Day at home.

Some bills passed by the recent session of Congress which do not meet his approval were on the desk in the study room at the old family home and Mr. Roosevelt prepared statements of vetoes.

He has declined the old method of "pocket vetoes" whereby laws could be discarded by refusal to sign within the ten day constitutional limit.

Events Around The Empire State

Dunraven, N. Y., Sept. 2 (AP).—Delaware county Republicans still were quoting today from Representative Bert Lord's analysis of the new federal potato bill before a gathering here Saturday. "The secretary of agriculture will have to be real good to the farmer who raises only five bushels of potatoes and let him continue to raise that many, but if he should want to sell his neighbor a peck of his potatoes, he will have to pack them in a closed container approved by the government and put a government stamp on the package," Lord declared.

New York, Sept. 2 (AP).—The metropolis took on the quietude and deserted aspect of just a good sized city today. It was estimated 2,000,000 New Yorkers have gone elsewhere for the holiday.

Oswego, N. Y., Sept. 2 (AP).—Anthony Posterino, 43, who has said farewell to 35 death house companions since he was sentenced to die for the slaying of Ray Allen in Oswego county, expects to get his eighth reprieve. He has been aiding police in clearing up another Oswego county crime. His seventh reprieve will expire September 9.

Schenectady, N. Y., Sept. 2 (AP).—This city has been triply honored by the State Polish Roman Catholic Union. Julian Sokolowski of Schenectady is the new president; Schenectady has been made state headquarters and next year's convention will be here. Others from this city who were elected at the Ulica convention, just closed, are: Vice president, Louis Kroszudski; secretary, Heronim Rozewski; and marshal, Walter Gutowski. Additional officers are: Treasurer, Thaddeus Sokolowski and lady vice president, Mrs. Mary Schmidt, both of Ulica; honorary vice president to national, Anastasia Topor, Lackawanna.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Sept. 2 (AP).—Taking up intact the platform on which his father was seeking election as mayor, William C. Laughlin today announced his candidacy. His father, William Laughlin, died in the midst of his campaign. The younger Laughlin is 40 and a disabled World War veteran.

Port Washington, N. Y., Sept. 2 (AP).—A distinguished polo player received first aid from a distinguished medical man when he was thrown from his pony during a match yesterday. Devereaux Milburn was treated by Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, White House physician under Woodrow Wilson. With Milburn out, the British Hurlingham team defeated Westbury 9-8.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Sept. 2 (AP).—Two race horses scheduled to carry the colors of Max Hirsch at Belmont Park never will heed the starter's signal again. The horses, Commemoration and North Star, were fatally burned yesterday when fire started in one of 60 cars on the way to Belmont from Saratoga Springs. Nine other horses in the same car were saved.

Right after LABOR DAY

... WE SHALL look at our houses, to see if they had better be repainted or reroofed before the rigors of winter set in. ... We shall figure the needs of the coal bin (or perhaps decide to install that oil burner we've long wanted). ... We shall take stock of the living-room, bedrooms, bathroom, kitchen and clothes closets, to find out what replacements are needed.

And if we are as foresighted as we ought to be, we will buy now for future as well as immediate needs. For September is the month of advantageous buying; of inviting close-outs and attractive pre-season sales. Knowing where to find exactly what we want is certainly knowing how to save money. Look on the pages of this newspaper—in the advertisements. There is no better or easier way.

Remember: Money saved through judicious buying is money earned—and as real as that gained from any wage increase. Read the advertisements

Belgians Fear Leopold Will Not Be Able to Go To Astrid's Funeral

Brussels, Sept. 2 (AP)—Fear was expressed today that King Leopold would not be able to attend the funeral of Queen Astrid tomorrow.

The monarch, twice bereaved in the last 18 months, remains in seclusion in his castle, shut off from all contact with the world and even from sympathetic overtures from the scores of royalty gathering here from all parts of Europe to attend Belgium's farewell to its queen, killed motoring in Switzerland.

The King's three children, who are with him, have been told of their mother's death but they cannot understand its meaning. They will not be allowed to witness the pomp which will attend their mother to the grave.

The funeral procession will begin at 10.15 a. m. (4.15 a. m. eastern standard time), headed by detachments of cavalry and infantry with other service men carrying flags and banners. The pallbearers will be members of the royal family and of foreign royal families, members of the diplomatic corps and government officials.

The King, if he is able to attend the services, will follow his queen's coffin on foot.

The street lights have been hung with crepe along the route of the procession, which is the same as that followed by the funeral of King Albert.

The walls of the magnificent 15th century cathedral of St. Gudule have been draped with blue and silver banners in preparation for the solemn ceremonies. After the service, the body will be taken to the royal vault in the Church of the Lady of the Lake for burial.

Brussels mourning for the queen is a city of weepers. Outside the palace where the body lies in state great crowds stand today with scarcely a murmur of protest. The town and suburbs are full of thousands of mourners who have come into the city to rather in the hot streets.

JAPAN PLEADING CONTROL CLOSING CHINESE COLLEGES

Tokyo, Sept. 2 (AP)—The Japanese government today announced that it had ordered the closing of Chinese colleges in Japan. The government said that the colleges were a source of trouble and that they were not in accordance with the Japanese constitution. The government also said that it was taking steps to control the activities of the Chinese in Japan.

FRENCH CULTURE REVIVAL AIM OF RADIO HOOK-UP

Paris (AP)—Intellectual Georges Mandel, minister of posts, telegraph and telephone, hopes the radio will do for France what women's clubs are attempting to do for America—makes the people culture conscious. But he prefers to stress "national culture."

Radio thinks Mandel, should revive age old French culture, whose glory has been dimmed in recent years by automobiles and movies. The nation-wide hook-up which comes under Mandel's control, will broadcast French opera, French music, French plays—all interpreted by French artists—as well as lectures on French literature. Vulgar music such as American jazz, will be banned.

When people weren't too weak to walk a block?
When all clothing was starched stiff?
When men shined their own shoes?
When women shampooed their own hair?
When Saturday was bread baking day in every home?
When parents knew more than their children?

Policeman (to the woman of the house)—I see that have a couple of dogs. Have you licenses for them?

Woman—Oh, no. They're far too young. Only puppies, you know.
Policeman (patting them on the heads)—Frisky little beggars.
Woman (proudly)—Yes, and you'd never think that they were mother and son, would you?

Slomp—is old Wombat drinking any more since prohibition was repealed?
Fogg—No—Just the same amount.
He always drank as much as he could get.

Big Sister—Jimmy, Aunt Becky will never kiss you with that dirty face.
Jimmy—That's what I figured.

A Comfortable Frock For the Active Woman

There is such a hub-bub and to-do about new fall styles! So much news about materials and colors, and silhouettes, new influences, and so on, that simple frocks for the house are apt to be crowded out of the picture. But the necessity for them has a way of being pretty nearly always present.

This design is a shirtwaist dress of sorts. The blouse is quite unadorned, just finished with a nice flat collar, and bow. It is the cut of this kind of dress that matters most, and this pattern is well planned for a perfectly fitting garment. The sleeves are short in the illustration (although long ones are also shown), and are slit a way, for that delightful feeling of freedom, especially desirable when you're busy moving the furniture about. The skirt has a godet smack in front, starting at the knees. You can see from the chart of pieces which go into the making of this dress that it is altogether a practical and easy affair, and the result will be worth the few hours you put into the making.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1663-B is designed in sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 requires 3½ yards of 36-inch material, or 2½ yards of 54-inch material. For contrasting collar and bow ¼ yard of 36-inch material is required.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

There is much talk of military touches in the fall fashions—and in viewing the showings it is very much in evidence both for day time and semi-formal modes. Braids, frogs, tassels, buttons, double-breasted effects and high necklines are some of the indications of this trend.
However, with all this war-like atmosphere—in the same showing of dinner semi-formals, a gown of the opposite mood was shown—a peace-like gown, beautifully to the point of having stars and crescents embroidered in all over design. So fashion decree that whatever military's mood
—there is a gown to suit it.

The standing figure above wears a Schlagarelli model of black crepe with the military touch in the form of huge braided frogs at the bodice front, a white bib of crepe is revealed up the center of the frogs and makes the turn-over collar. The sleeves are full and high at the shoulder tapering into a right forearm.
Seated is a gown that might be worn by an astrologist—but will surely create interest wherever worn.
Mainbacher designed this beautiful dinner gown of metal embroidered material in a deep sky blue with silver stars and crescents embroidered in all-over design. A silver lame kerchief is worn at the necklines.

BEAUTY PROBLEMS OF MATURE WOMEN SOLVED IN HOME INSTITUTE BOOKLET

HAVE COMFORTABLE FEET IN SMART SHOES

When you go shopping for shoes this season, you'll feel like skipping with joy. Because for the first time in many a moon, it's smart for feet to be comfortable.

Some of the gayest of the fall shoes are sensibly cut and have low or medium heels and broad rounded or square toes. You'll find them in smart fabrics and clever combinations of leathers, and even in lovely colors.

Our shoes in the sketch are examples of this happy union of smartness and comfort. In the upper right circle are smartly sensible walking shoes—a perforated kidskin oxford and a strapped shoe of alligator and suede. In the lower circle are two dresser shoes, a suede oxford with decorative slits over the instep, and a smart, low-heeled pump. For foot beauty and comfort, look for shoes like these this season.

Strengthening Exercises
And if your feet aren't in perfect trim, try some strengthening and beautifying exercises. We've illustrated two that strengthen the arches and are especially beneficial if you have pain in your feet and calves or callouses on the balls of your feet.

Upper left: Rise on your toes barefoot twenty to thirty times. Do this morning and evening. Lower right:
Practice picking up small objects, such as marbles or buttons, with the toes. Here is another good one:
Walk pigeon-toed on either side of a line. Lift the inner edge of the feet and make a gripping motion with the muscles of the feet at each step.

When you walk and stand, keep feet pointed straight ahead and support your weight on the outside of your feet. And be sure to have stockings long enough; they should be about half an inch longer than your feet.

FLASHES OF LIFE SKETCHED IN BRIEF

By Associated Press

Health Experts Say Cauliflower Is Good

"Good cauliflower—I have in mind the cauliflower grown in our own State of New York—is highly recommended by health experts to consumers who appreciate an excellent food rich in minerals and other essentials. Besides that, it tastes good," so stated Peter G. Ten Eyck, commissioner of agriculture and markets in a statement issued today through the Consumers' Information Service.

New York State cauliflower comes from Long Island, the Catskill mountains, the Orchard Park section of Western New York and more recently from the Adirondacks. The high altitudes and climatic conditions of the Catskills are particularly adapted to the raising of cauliflower. Favored by plenty of sunshine, sprinkled with just the right amount of rain and enjoying comparative freedom from fog which results in fine air drainage for the crop, the Catskills with their cool nights and temperate days provide a perfect formula for cauliflower.

Catskill Cauliflower
Slightly less than 45 years ago, a pioneer introduced cauliflower into cultivation in the Catskills and began shipments to New York city markets in the second year. His neighbors likewise were successful with cauliflower and that's how the industry got its start in those mountains.

Today, more than 100,000 crates comprise the Catskill cauliflower shipments every year. They will continue until the last of October, it is expected, reaching markets in this state while still retaining their field freshness.

Expert cooks say that in cooking cauliflower you should be sure the water is boiling and the fire hot. They pour boiling water on the vegetable until the entire head is covered, then add a teaspoon of salt to the water for an average sized head.

New Booklet
Consumers' Information Service of the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets, is distributing booklets on cauliflower which show 300 ways of cooking this vegetable. The books are free for the asking. They point out that cooking cauliflower the shortest possible time in a goodly amount of rapidly boiling salted water improves the flavor, color, texture and appearance and makes it so appetizing that enough is eaten to more than offset the loss that goes out in the cooking water.

Creamed cauliflower is delicious, just as many other vegetables are found to be when cooked with milk or cream. I cannot overemphasize the importance of using plenty of good milk in the kitchen in addition to serving it regularly to all the family at every meal.

Consumers' Information Service will be only too glad to mail the cauliflower recipe book to any address without cost if a request is sent to the Department of Agriculture and Markets, Albany, N. Y.

Several local sportsmen spent Sunday fishing at Shokan.

Berardis Trim Hercules, 9-2, In City League Series Opener

Berardi A. C., taking advantage of ragged fielding and every opportunity, easily defeated Hercules Powdermen in the first game of the City League series at the Athletic Field, Saturday afternoon. The score was 9 to 2 and one of the largest crowds to assemble at a game this season was on hand to witness the contest. The next game of the series, which will be played Wednesday evening, may decide the championship as another win for the Berardis will give them the cup.

In winning Berardis looked like real champs. They played snappy ball on the field and turned many balls labeled hits into putouts. Hercules, on the other hand, were far from usual form. They booted the ball all over the diamond and gave the Berardis plenty of opportunities to score. Six actual errors were committed by the Powdermen while there were plenty of errors of omission.

Julius Chick was the winning pitcher. He was given a three-run lead to work on in the first inning and with the exception of the third and seventh inning had nothing to worry about. He allowed nine hits but they were well spaced.

Eddie Scherer opposed Chick and, although hit hard in spots, would have fared better if his teammates had given him better support. He was nipped for 10 hits.

Tommy Malnes found Scherer's offerings just to his liking. He poked the longest hit of the game, a triple to deep center field and also connected for a double. Martin, Dulin, Vanderee and Tiano also hit doubles.

Scherer got himself in trouble with the first run to face him. He hit Murphy with a pitched ball and then he allowed Vanderee's bunt to go by him for a single. Murphy taking third. Zanday also bunted and Murphy raced home with the first run of the game. Tiano hit to Cullum and Vanderee was trapped between third and home, but Cullum in tagging him dropped the ball, which rolled into left field and both Vanderee and Tiano registered when Houghtaling's return of the ball went by both Scherer and Short.

Hercules came close to tying the count in the third inning, but fell short one run. Martin poked his double to right field and Quesd drew a pass. Scherer sacrificed both runners a base and Peterson sent them home with a single to center field. In the seventh they loaded the bases but could not produce the necessary walk-off.

The fourth inning found Berardis taking a bigger lead by sending three more runs across the platter. Linden reached first on Houghtaling's error and continued on to second when Niles uncorked a wild throw in throwing a first base on the same play. Malnes hit to Niles and he hit Linden trying to catch him going to third. Linden and Malnes then executed a double steal. Linden scoring. Hopper was walked and Chick singled to right field, Malnes and Hopper scoring on Peterson's bad throw to the plate.

Berardis took two more runs in the fifth. DeCicco singled and Linden was safe on Niles' error, DeCicco going to third. He went home on a wild pitch. Malnes then inserted his triple and Linden dented the rubber. Linden again registered in the seventh. He singled to center field and rode home on Malnes' triple.

Tommy Malnes would have collected the case of Burckommet donated by Fitzgerald Bros. if his triple hadn't hit a car on Cornell street. The score:

For the benefit of the fans who can't attend the games on Saturday the next game of the series will be played at the Athletic Field, Wednesday evening at 7:45 sharp. Berardis need but one more game to take the cup while Hercules will have to win two in order to get it. The Powdermen are going to send Jimmy Martin to the mound to try and stop the fast-moving Berardis. Jimmy is a fast ball pitcher and may give the batters a lot of trouble. Chick, Dulin, Scherer and Tiano are expected to bat for the Berardis. If not "Sport" Cullum will do the following.

Clark Griffith's promise to hand-somely reward Buddy Myer if the Senators' scrappy little second baseman comes through to win the American League batting championship has been interpreted in many quarters as meaning that Myer is slated to replace Stanley (Bucky) Harris as manager of the Washington team next season. Griffith has always been strong for a playing manager and Buddy looks like a good bet.

The silver-haired boss of the Senators has long held a warm spot in his heart for Myer, but there was a time back in 1927 when he had an idea that the little infielder did not have the makings of a big league star. It was then that he traded Myer to the Boston Red Sox for Topper Rigney. Buddy played only fair ball in the half of the 1927 season he wore the Red Sox uniform, but the following year he blossomed out into a real star at third base.

Back To Senators
He hit .313 the first full season he spent with the Boston team and that was enough to convince the Washington owner that he had sized the lad up wrong. So on December 15, 1928, Griffith completed the deal that brought Myer back to the Senators where he really belonged. Just how badly Griffith wanted Buddy back can be judged from the fact that he gave up Gaston, Lisenbee, Reeves, Gillis and Bigelow to make the trade.

But the Silver Fox has the satisfaction of knowing that while Myer is just arriving at his baseball peak, the men he sent to Boston in the trade have passed out of the big league picture.

Buddy has always been a fair batter, but this season he blossomed out as a contender for the batting laurels of his league. The sudden rise of his batting average can be attributed to the fact that he has at last learned to make the most of his rare speed in getting down to first base. There is hardly a man in the big show who has a quicker getaway than Myer. And that goes for Ben Chapman, Bill Werber and other speed-demons of the American League. Buddy gets down to the first sack in something like 3 1/2 seconds—and that's moving in any league.

Beats 'Em Out
A large percentage of the hits credited to the speedy Senator have been either well placed bunts or of the infield variety, the type that do more to upset a team's equilibrium than squarely hit drives; for more often than not they force the fielder to hurry his throw with the unhappy result that the ball often winds up in the stands instead of the first baseman's glove.

Buddy never lets up. Sometimes his scrappy manner gets him into difficulties but then it is only because he is trying too hard. And you can't hate a fellow for trying.

The loyal rooters of the Senators are pulling hard for Buddy to beat out Vonmik, Greenberg, Cramer and the other contenders for the batting honors for it is at all the glory they can hope to salvage from another disastrous season. The Washington team may rise above the low spot it now occupies, but it seems definitely slated for the second division.

Local Tennis Club Will Play Monroe

On Sunday afternoon at the Twaalfskill Courts the Kingston Tennis Club will entertain the Monroe Club. The down state team will be here for the third and deciding game of this year's series. The Monroe boys won the opening tilt at Monroe early in the season, but Kingston drubbed them badly when they came up here last month. Both teams, however, are very evenly matched and in the past it has been the "breaks" of the game that has decided the outcome.

Next Sunday's match will be unique inasmuch as four of Kingston's leading young lady players will stack up against the girls from Monroe. The Kingston contingent will be chosen from the Misses Margery Clubb, present city champion, Evelyn Mullen, Evelyn Melin and others who played in the recent city championship tournament at Fortify Park.

Manager Nick Fowler announced that for the men's team he will have his regulars on hand including Randall Rose, Stan Hancock, Bob Herzon, Ed Strone, Bob Hancock, John Burgevin, Bill Merrill and Hank Osborn.

A match with the Woodstock Club may also be played some time during the week. Twice before the match has been arranged but both times it was postponed.

The STANDINGS

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Pittsburgh's threat against the top-ranking trio of National League clubs has been checked or at least slowed down because Roy Henshaw, Chicago's pint-sized portside holds a ten gallon jinx over the Pirates, but the whole affair has served to bring out how close a race is going on in the senior big league.

Until they ran afoul of Henshaw yesterday the Pirates had won 10 straight games, six of them from the three pennant hopefuls, and had placed themselves only six games behind the league-leading Cardinals. The little lefty, who had beaten Pittsburgh five times in six previous efforts, put an end to that winning streak when he rang up victory No. 6—his eleventh of the season in all—with a neat eight hit hurling performance and knocked in the first run of an 8 to 2 victory himself. A five-run rally against Cy Blanton in the eighth finished the job.

After it was over however, the Bucs still were six games behind and well within striking distance of the lead as both the Cards and second-place Giants suffered reverses while Chicago was only 1 1/2 games behind St. Louis and a half a game from New York.

The Cards had a bad day at the plate with Paul Derringer hearing them over for Cincinnati and bowed to the Reds 4 to 3 while Curt Davis of the Phillies limited New York to four hits, one a homer by Travis Jackson, to win 6 to 1. Derringer pitched two-hit ball for 6 innings while his mates built up a 4-0 lead and when he cracked Don Brennan stemmed the rally short of a tie. The cards had another reverse when Pepper Martin pulled up lame in the first inning and had to leave the game.

Washington's Senators, buried deep in the second division, topped the day's performances in the American League when they defeated the Red Sox 2 to 1 in a 14-inning mound duel between Buck Newsom and Lefty Grove and climbed into sixth place. The victory put them a half a game ahead of the Athletics, who took a 5 to 3 beating from the Yankees for their seventh straight loss despite home runs by Jimmie Fox and Bob Johnson. Fox's homer was his 29th of the season.

The Yanks clipped a half game off Detroit's big margin, making it an even eight games, as the Tigers were rained out at St. Louis.

Chicago's White Sox, driving to regain third place, followed up Vernon Kennedy's brilliant no-hit game against Cleveland Saturday by beating over the Indians 3 to 6 yesterday as Al Simmons snapped out of his hitting slump to make three hits, including a single that brought in the winning runs. The victory left the Sox only a half game behind the Indians.

One big inning gave Brooklyn an 8 to 4 victory over the Braves in the day's other game. The Dodgers smashed Ben Cantwell off the hill with seven runs in the second while Van Mungo hurled his first complete game since June 25. Mungo yielded eleven blows, including Wally Berger's 29th homer.

Hurons Take Series From Kaslich A. C. By 10-5 Win At Rosendale

The Huron Indians won the final game of their series with the Kaslich A. C. on Sunday afternoon at Kristic Field, by a score of 10-5. The win gave the Indians the edge for the season, both teams having previously won two games.

Ken Hornbeck, on the mound for the Indians, allowed the visitors but nine hits while his mates were smacking the offerings of Andy Celuch for 15 bingles.

The Hurons enjoyed a 5-0 lead at the end of the second inning and the A. C. boys never caught up. They scored a run in the third and seventh and three more in the ninth for a final bid but the winners garnered five more in the seventh and eighth and had the game on ice.

Thomas, playing left field for the A. C., featured in the field with a spectacular, one-hand catch of one of C. Neff's drives that was on its way over the fence for a homer. In the seventh frame, however, Neff connected with one that did go over the fence.

Boxing Bouts At Walkill Prison

One of the best boxing programs ever seen in these parts is scheduled for tonight, weather permitting, at Walkill State Prison, where the cream of the institution's pugilistic stable and leather slingers of prominence from all along the Hudson river are to go to war in the squared circle.

Among those billed to fight are Charlie Johnston, ex-National Guard scrapper who fought Jack "Red" Mosher of Newburgh in the old Kingston army some years back and Johnny Peters, the 165 pounder who floored Big Bill Freeman of West Point twice in a recent bout.

The former heavyweight champ of the National Guard said Peters hits harder than any of the heavies he ever mixed with.

Peters is matched with Joe Tinley, well known Peaskill belter, who fought Enzo Firemonte at Woodcliff Park. Poughkeepsie, some years back.

Charlie Johnston will punch it out with Kid Allison of Ossining. Johnston traveled in big company when he was outside and was seconded on several occasions by none other than "Dumb Dan" Morgan, manager of three world's champions at one time.

Besides these celebrities other fighters who are favorites around Kingston are on the card: Bear Ross of Mechanicville, Carl Sorenson, who bats Marty Moskowitz for the American Legion, September 6; Kid Chapple, Kingston's latest sensation, and Charlie Carpio, who will make a comeback against Roy Stinson of Walkill.

Starting time of the bouts is 8:30 and action is expected to end when until the bell rings ending the star encounter.

SOFTBALL GAMES

The Rapid How softball team is scheduled to play a double header with the Connelly Aces today at Black Park. The first starting at 2 o'clock. Much rivalry exists between these clubs and a real stingy diamond war is expected.

Outgoing letter: Rapid—Krum and Tolt; Connelly Aces—Clair and Mower.

Rules for Wild Bird Season Are Released By State Officials

Albany, Sept. 2. (Special)—Rules adjusting the open season and bag limits for migratory birds in order to conform to federal regulations, have been promulgated by the State Conservation Department.

Recently, President Roosevelt approved the regulations governing the open seasons, manner of taking and bag limits of migratory game birds for the season of 1935, and these now have the effect of law. In order to make New York's seasons conform with those of the federal government, the Conservation Department has to officially adopt the rules laid down by the President's proclamation. Radical changes, including the shortening of the seasons, and other important departures from previous years, have been decided upon by the State Conservation Commissioner, who requests hunters to make themselves familiar with the new rules.

The Conservation Commissioner also calls attention to the fact that persons hunting wild water fowl must have the New York state hunting license as well as the federal stamp, which may be purchased from any first or second-class post office, or from any postoffice in the vicinity of duck hunting grounds.

The open season for wild waterfowl, rails, gallinules, Wilson's snipe or jacksnipe and coot (both on the mainland and Long Island) shall be from October 21 to November 19, both dates inclusive.

There shall be no open season for snow geese, Ross's goose, wood duck, ruddy duck, bufflehead duck, swans and greater or lesser yellowlegs or other shore birds except as indicated above.

The open season for woodcock (both on the mainland and Long Island) shall be from October 15 to November 14, both dates inclusive. The day's bag limit per person shall be ten ducks in the aggregate of all kinds; four geese and brant in the aggregate of all kinds; twenty-five snipe or jacksnipe; fifteen Wilson's snipe or jacksnipe and four woodcock.

Wild waterfowl, rails, gallinules, coot, Wilson's snipe or jacksnipe and woodcock shall only be taken between 7 a. m. and 4 p. m. standard time.

Migratory game birds may be taken with a shot gun only not larger than ten gauge, but they shall not be taken with or by means of any automatic-loading or hand-operated repeating shot gun capable of holding more than three shells the magazine of which has not been cut off, or plugged with a 1-piece metal or wooden filler incapable of removal through the loading end thereof, so as to reduce the capacity of the gun to not more than three shells at one loading.

The baiting with or by aid of corn, wheat, oats or other grain or products thereof, salt, or any kind of feed whereby such water fowl are lured, attracted or enticed to the hunter is prohibited.

The use of live waterfowl decoys is prohibited.

The federal regulations provide that migratory game birds may be taken from the land or water, from a blind, boat or floating craft of any kind (except they shall not be taken by aid of automobile, air plane, sink box (battery), power boat or sail boat), not more than 100 feet from the shore line as determined by ordinary high tide, or where there is continuous natural growth or vegetation extending beyond such shore line not more than 100 feet from such growth or vegetation protruding above the surface of the water except that scoters (see coots) may be taken in coastal waters without reference to such distance. Therefore, in taking migratory game birds in waters of this state in which the conservation laws permit the taking of them at any distance from shore, the federal regulations must be complied with. In all waters of the state in which the conservation laws prohibit the taking, more than fifty feet from the shore or a natural growth of flags or bulrushes, the conservation laws must be complied with.

Persons hunting wild waterfowl in addition to the New York state hunting license are required to have the federal hunting stamp. The fee for this stamp is $1 and it may be purchased in any first-class or second-class post office from any of the post offices in the vicinity of duck hunting grounds. Persons desiring copies of the Federal Migratory Bird Treaty Regulations should write to the Bureau of Biological Survey, Washington, D. C.

Good motto for these times, from Omar Khayyam:
"Ah, take the cash and let the credit go.
Not heed the rumble of a distant drum."

More complaints in the news about swarms of bees moving into the walls of houses. There's a simple remedy if you object. Just set up an electric fan at the head of the swarm. Same for wasps and hornets.

The meeting will open at 8 o'clock sharp.

At Sunday's practice the following players were seen in action: Jimmy "Moore" Tiano, Lonsfield, former of Troughneck; Ed Connelly, "Spiky" Connelly, Ray Pankas, Bill Moody, and Charlie Ralbie, Inman.

Plans of Manager Ralbie are to start the season at the Kingston Fair Grounds on Sunday, September 29, probably against Hudson.

Sorenson to Fight Marty Moskowitz Here Friday Night

The boxing match that has been the talk of the town for more than a month, between Carl Sorenson and Marty Moskowitz, will go on Friday night, September 6, at the American Legion outdoor stadium, corner of Broadway and West O'Reilly street.

Last month these two boys were billed to punch it out in the feature of the card put on especially for the police convention, but an injured ankle prevented Moskowitz from going on. Dr. L. E. Sanford, Legion physician, refused to let the Monticello bearcat fight.

"Never mind, I'll be in shape for the next card," said Marty. "I feel certain I can take over Sorenson and I'll prove it." He is anxious to meet the Waterford dynamo and a good scrap is expected to be the result of his feelings.

Sorenson is just as eager to beat Moskowitz as Marty is to win. He has heard much about the good fight the Monticello lad put up against Lew Ambers (Otis Paradise) here and wants to show the fans that he would deserve a crack at the star lightweight if he were still in the amateurs.

The scrap is scheduled for five rounds.

Supporting matches are:
Danny Hubbell, 118, Waterford, vs. Nick Jensen, 118, Rome, 5 rounds.
Sammy Fuller, 140, Waterford, vs. George Fernon, 142, Rome, 5 rounds.
Greg Von Rutnick, 175, Albany, vs. Joe Reimouth, 176, Rome, 5 rounds.

Freddy Baumgarten, 155, Albany, vs. Joe Mink, 155, Rome, 5 rounds.
Willie Marinucci, 135, Waterford, vs. Kid Miller, 139, Kingston, 3 rounds.

Kid Chapple, 120, Kingston, vs. Frankie Pignatore, 121, Albany, 3 rounds.

Fall Tournament On At Twaalfskill Club; Clambake Thursday

The annual fall handicap golf tournament is under way at the Twaalfskill Club. All players have qualified and there are three classes. In Class A, the Rev. Father Herdgen was low for the qualifying round with a 79. The Rev. Father William H. Kennedy was seeded number one and will oppose Abel Abernethy in the first round. Other matches will include Ernest LeFever vs. Irving Kauder, S. Hiltibrant vs. Bert Hilt, Bud Fromer vs. Ed Barrett, Father Herdgen vs. Dick Miller, Wallace Codwre vs. Steve Hiltibrant, Sr. and Lou Smith vs. Watts Bailey.

Father Kennedy is the low handicapper with 6, and is favored to take first honors, but there are several players in the running that will give him plenty of trouble.

The club championship (without handicaps) will start next week.

The ladies' tournament is also under way and all the players are requested to post their qualifying scores by September 7.

On Thursday there will be a clambake held at the club. All reservations are to be sent in to E. Frank Flanagan or Walter Buddenhagen by Wednesday.

Yellow Jackets Held First Workout Sunday, May Start Sept. 29

Sunday was the first the Yellow Jackets worked out this fall in preparation for what they hope will be one of the best seasons in the history of the club.

Manager Charlie Ralbie, who will handle the team for the Red Brothers, backers of the Wasps this year, today said he was more than pleased with the showing of the Jackets at the Athletic Field.

Special practice, running and calisthenics made up the program, which lasted from 8:30 until 12 o'clock.

Coach E. Warren Kias of Kingston High School supervised the drill at the request of Manager Ralbie. After the workout Kias gave a talk on physical condition and suggested ways of getting into shape.

Time and place of the next practice will be announced at the Yellow Jacket meeting Tuesday evening at the Kaslich Millard parlor on Wall street.
